PROFESSIONAL BIOGRAPHY OF KATHERINE J. EDWARDS

MY PRACTICE

Throughout my legal career, I have specialized in negotiating, litigating, and mediating employment law related disputes. In my current practice, I serve exclusively as a neutral, continuing my devotion to addressing and resolving workplace conflict as a private mediator and as an independent investigator.

As a full-time neutral, I have been involved in such diverse employment disputes as discrimination, harassment, retaliation, public policy and whistleblower claims, defamation, privacy rights, contract disputes, wage & hour, trade secrets, unfair competition, and wrongful termination in all procedural stages from pre-litigation to appeal. My experience in evaluating and resolving workplace disputes extends to religious and non-profit organizations, private industry, and the public sector, including community colleges, universities (public and private), school districts, police and fire departments, cities, counties, and other governmental and quasi-governmental entities throughout California.
